A PRECIOUS DOCUMENT.—We acknowledge the receipt of the address of the "Printers' Grant and Coifax Club, of the District of Columbia, to their follow-eraftsmen throughout the Union." It is decidedly a sweet-areated document—redo ent with the performe of Radical rottenness, and recking with boughout Africac in every line and passed. Significantly It is a gorgeous specimen of "spread-engleism," and throughout the loan basting its last does not contain a bold unbusting its last does not contain a bold unbusting its last does not contain a bold unbusting its picture would be found dead with it in his procket.

attainments and educational ability, for the purpose of establishing in our midst a strictly inst-class private fermale academy. The ladjes who have thus associated themselves are Mrs. N. A. E. Morgan formerly of the Lee Acad-ony, Mr. Clien Elchardson, a thoroughly ac-complished woman and the willow of a Confederate soldier and editor, and Miss S. C. Cornelins, daughter of Wm. Cornelins, the distinguished New Orleans lawyer. They have taken the large and commodious house known as the Memphis Female College, No. 32 Adams street, where it is their desire and intention to make one of the very best schools in the Southern country. We cordially recommend them to the patronage of the rubble, and wish them all success in their most praiseworthy undertaking.

INFANTICIDE—THE CASE OF VIOLET Downell.—Spairs Miliard yesterday commenced the examination of Violet bowdell, the little girl charged with the morder of an infant come days ago, by a borribe mulliation. Draw and faylor were examined, but as their testimony was of a technical character, and most of it undit for publication, we do not reproduce it. Both agreed, however, that the immediate cause of death was infammation, produced by the mulliation—there being no testimony to prove the introduction of any poisson or virus into the system. At the close of Dr. Taylor's testimony, the defendant was placed under $100 bonds to appear this morning for a continuation of the examination. Violet is a child of about is raive years of age.
